Work Experience

MERN Stack Developer

MAY 2024 - Quickint Solutions

- As a MERN Stack Developer, I have contributed to live projects using MongoDB, Express.js, React.js, and Node.js, applying theoretical knowledge to real-world scenarios. Through this work, I gained hands-on experience in developing scalable full-stack solutions, strengthening my technical expertise and problem-solving skills. Collaborating within agile teams has helped me grow as an adaptable and effective team player, capable of delivering clean, maintainable, and performance-driven applications.

Intenship

NOV 2023 - Quickint Solutions

- Gained hands-on experience in MongoDB, Express.js, React.js, and Node.js by working on real-world projects. Strengthened skills in full-stack development, problem-solving, and collaborative team environments.

Project

Vayuxi Application

- Vayuxi is a cross-platform mobile application developed with Expo (React Native), focused on delivering efficient user experience and scalable performance. The project strengthened skills in mobile app development, API integration, and real-world problem-solving.

Gate Pass Mobile Application

- A React Native app for Android and iOS that simplifies gate pass management, providing separate interfaces for residents to manage visitors and for security staff to control access.

E-Commerce Web Platform

- Developed a full-stack E-commerce web platform featuring product management, user authentication, cart and checkout functionality, and order tracking. Focused on building a scalable backend, efficient API integration, and responsive front-end to deliver a reliable online shopping experience.
